Horizon Science Academy Dayton Downtown – Science Fair

Dayton, OH (December 7, 2011)—Horizon Science Academy Dayton Elementary Students Show Their Scientific Skills

On December 2nd, 2011, Horizon Science Academy Dayton Downtown hosted a science fair at the Turkish American Society of Ohio Community Center where students showed their scientific skills at a public showing of their science fair projects. While all students took part in devising age –appropriated experiments, the students in grades 5-7 were held to higher accountability as they were judged by professionals from Wright State University, University of Dayton, and Wright-Patt Airforce Base.

The list of judges included; Richard A Sugarman, Alan Yates, Marta Sears, Kerianne Hobbs, Kunal Patel, Erin Rogers, Kelly N. Tran, Benjamin Tran, Kathryn Laepple, Mary Sparks, Lori Osborn, Mrs. Cook, Mr. Cook, Bridget Mogel, Greg Fett, Wade Barnes, Abby Spaeth, Lauren Neimann, Meghan Johnston, Josie Little, and Ben Smarslok.

Students who scored highest will travel to Cleveland on March 3rd, 2012 to compete against other high scoring Concept Schools' students. The winners of this year's HSAD2 Science Fair are: Murad Ilyasov, Sultan Iskandarova, Ilmira Aslanova, Angel Holland (fifth graders), Callista Campbell, Eda Sagnak, Leyla Iskandarova (sixth graders), and Maral Akhmedova, Skylar Watkins and Murat Aslanov (seventh graders). Matt Sagnak, the Director of H.S.A.D.D. thanks all of the judges, parents, students, and members of the community for their support of this year's HSAD2 Science Fair. Mr. Sagnak welcomes the public to visit the school to learn more about Horizon Science Academy Dayton Downtown.
